Wedding Beautifully Solemnized At The Baptist Church In Hardinsburg Thanks-giving

Hardinsburg, Nov. 25 (Special.) Beautifully and unexpressively was the wedding at the Baptist church Thanksgiving, which united the lives of Miss Judith Walls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Walls, of Hardinsburg and Mr. Joe Trent, of Custer.

Decorations of ferns, palms and the greens made the church beautifully appropriate for this pretty wedding with ceremony impressively pronounced by Rev. J. J. Willett, the pastor in charge.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Misses Katie Eskridge, Maud Smith, Maggie and Ella Ahl, Martha and Isabel Gardner, Meda Ditto and Emma Ahl, all dressed in white, occupied the choir seats and remained there throughout the solemnization of the marriage.

Miss Hallie Brown presided at the organ and as Lohengrin's beautiful wedding march was played the two ushers, Messrs. Raymond Dowell and Cleveland Brock entered followed by the bride on the arm of her brother, Dave Walls, who gave her away.

At the altar they were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Henry Trent, of Louisville.

Mendelssohn was played as Rev. Willett pronounced the ceremony.

The bride dressed in a tan suit and carrying brides roses never looked prettier.

Mrs. Trent was one of Hardinsburg's most popular girls. She has a host of friends and with her sweet disposition and pleasant manners wins admirers wherever she goes.

The groom is one of the best known young men in the county and is one of the most prosperous and energetic young men of which Breckenridge boasts.

They left soon after the wedding for their home near Custer.

Weds At Evansville--Miss Mabel England And Mr. John Hamilton Hartley Married

Wedding bells chimed to the marriage of John Hamilton Hartley and Mabel England on the morning of Thanksgiving, Nov. 24, 1910, at eleven o'clock Rev. Mr. Farmer officiating at Trinity M. E. parsonage on Third and Chestnut Streets, Evansville, Ind., the bride being given away by her father, Jas. S. England during the pretty little ring ceremony, the company then repairing to the bride's home on 6th street, where all enjoyed a good old fashioned country turkey dinner.

Mr. Hartley is the youngest of four sons of Mrs. Comfort Heartley of Worthington, Ind., and for the past five years has been employed as train dispatcher at the E. & T. H. depot in Evansville, Ind., and in his business capacity and among his associates both old and young none are ever spoken of in more praiseworthy terms for sociability and uprightness of character as a gentleman and friend than "Jack."

And Miss Mabel, only daughter of Jas and Grace England of Tobinsport, Ind., is well known and liked among the many pleasure loving friends she has in and around Hawesville, Cannelton and Tobinsport. The past two years she has been in the employ of John Erskine, hay and grain merchant, as stenographer. She is the niece of Mrs. J. P. Hawley of this city, where she has frequently visited.

The young couple will make their home with the bride's mother this winter buying themselves a home in the spring. —Hancock Clarion.

George W. Basham was most agreeably surprised on Thanksgiving by his children, cooking and taking him one of the finest dinners he ever had the pleasure of enjoying. The table groaned under the weight of the good things. It was a dinner, fit for the gods, and all left, wishing Mr. Basham might live to enjoy many such feasts. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Basham and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hardin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Basham and family.

Your humble scribe had the pleasure of being one of the invited guests at the banquet, given by the Old Bachelors Club of Webster, or the club of the lucky 13. They held their banquet at Mr. Clyde English's. We first had supper composed of roasted opossums, baked hens, quails on toast oyster soup and other things to numerous to mention. After supper, we had some fine speaking by H. C. Haddock and Clyde English, the President of the club and B. F. Hardin also gave a talk. Then we had some fine music given by Mr. Tom McGavock's phonograph. We left thanking Mr. Clyde English and the members of the club for the grand time that we, the invited guests, had enjoyed.

Goes to Mass.

Dear Editor: Please change my paper from 78 Church St., Newport, R. I., to 6 Trask St., Danvers, Mass. We leave here Saturday, Nov. 26, for the winter, as my season's work is finished.

We go to Danvers to fight the Gypsy moth, the greatest enemy of trees in America. Mass. has spent millions of dollars in trying to exterminate them, but it is an up-hill fight. Danvers adjoins Beverly, the summer home of Mr. Taft.

We will be near R. E. Henderson, Richard Herndon and B. Walter Herndon. They are located in Beverly and are all doing well.

Be sure to change the address on our paper so we won't miss it.

Very truly yours,

W. B. Henderson, P. S. I was very much pleased with the news that old Breckenridge gave Johnson a Democratic majority. Proud that he carried Meade by such a majority. We elected a Democrat to Congress in this district over a stand-pat Republican.
